

Business, Professions & Government Division Tour of Mansion House, London Friday 19 February 2010 @ 2pm

Mansion House is a rare surviving Georgian town palace in London. With its magnificent interiors and elegant furniture, the Mansion House provides the Lord Mayor of the City of London with living working and entertainment space. Built in the age of Hogarth, the Mansion House, then as now, is a symbol of the City of London as the world's leading international financial and trading centre.

Mansion House was originally intended to enable the Lord Mayor to represent the City in appropriate style, and it continues to fulfil this function more than 250 years later.

The Mansion House is both a private residence for the Lord Mayor and family, and a base for the Lord Mayor's office, a department of the City of London Corporation, and provides a location for business meetings, conferences, banquets and entertaining. Some 40,000 people visit the Mansion House every year.

If you would like to join us, please book using the slip below.

Numbers are limited to a maximum of 40, so please book early. There is no charge for the visit.
