

International Diploma in Bilingual Communications (IDBC)

November 2010

General Regulations

The IDBC is an ideal qualification for those wishing to test, on a bilingual basis, their written and spoken fluency in English and Chinese (or English and another language subject to minimum numbers) within a contemporary professional and business context. Candidates need to be able to demonstrate the ability to operate effectively both within and between languages. For further information on Other Language options, please contact our Central Registration Department.

The Examination Registration Period runs from 4th May 2009 to 19th September 2009. The Central Registration Department must receive all entries within the specified period.

Entry Criteria

The examination is open to anyone who wishes to use their languages in a professional capacity. There are no other entry requirements however, a working knowledge to at least first-degree level of both English and the Other Language is essential.

Examination Outline

The IDBC is modular in design to test candidates in both receptive and productive skills. There are a total of 4 Modules and an optional Module 5.

- Module 1 Summary in Other Language --- 2 ½ hours
- Module 2 Business Writing and Communications in English --- 2 ½ hours
- Module 3 Translation from English into Other Language and from the Other Language into English. --- 3 hours
